with the allies, are to leave for home

Workers Are Loyal
Essen, Germany, March 8.—Former workers from munition plants and other factory employes have pledged that they will remain faithful to the German government. Representatives of 500,000 workmen in the Ruhr met allies may take.

as the London conference is adjourn-

the allies to the aid promised and not

sion barring our union with Germany," he said.

URGE TARIFF ON POTATOES

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SEEKS PROTECTION FOR HOME IN-DUSTRY THROUGH A
FEDERAL LAW

LETTERS TO WASHINGTON

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE IS ASKED TO BRING IN A RESOLUTION

A tariff on potato flour, potato starch and dehydrated potatoes is urged in a letter which the Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce has dispatched to Washington. One copy of the letter has been sent to the Honorable Joseph Fordney, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, and another to Congressman Edward E.
Browne of this district, a member of that committee. The Chamber writes as follows:

"This Chamber desires to go on record urging that your committee bring in a resolution recommending a commensurate tariff on potato flour, potato starch and dehydrated potatoes."

Tariff Rate Proposed

"As pointed out by W. P. Hartman, director of production of the Falk
American Potato Flour corporation, Pittsburg, in his statement before your committee Sunday, February 12, 1921, the tariff for it ought not to be less than three cents per pound on imports."

Banner Spud County

"Portage county is the banner potato county in the United States and unless our farmers receive some protection; stabilizing potatoes and thus maintaining a domestic market for this product I am afraid it will seriously jeopardize and retard the agricultural development of a large portion of the state of Wisconsin. It has been proven that owing to the sandy nature of our soil the chief crop which is grown profitably is that of potatoes but unless there is a local market for the product there is no incentive to the farmers to continue along these lines."

Protection Urged
"We believe that Mr. Hartman has submitted to your committee in his exhibits A, B and C sufficient information to justify prompt recommendations by the Ways and Means committee for this tariff. It is essential to the country as a whole that domestic industries be protected and American citizens be given the right to earn a fair return on their invested capital and labor."

"We therefore respectfully urge that this matter be given your earnest consideration and approval."

STANISLAUS CHILLA, SIXTH VIC-TINE, DISBURSES SUM OF $150
AND COSTS IN COUN-

TY COURT

(From Wednesday's Daily) Stanislaus Chilla, proprietor of a saloon at 200 Monroe street, is victim No. 6 of the series of raids conducted last week by agents of the state prohibition enforcement department, with the assistance of city and county authorities.

Chilla, in whose place a bottle of alleged moonshine was found by the raiders, appeared in court Wednesday morning and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of having intoxicating liquor in his possession. He was fined $150, which, together with costs of $6.45, he paid and was discharged.

JONAS WILL MAKE MI-DAILY CIGARS

NEW FACTORY WILL BE OPENED AT STRONGS AVENUE LO-CATION BY STEVENS
POINT MAN

The Mi-Daily Cigar company is the name of a new manufacturing institution for Stevens Point, with quarters at 515 Strongs avenue, just north of W. R. McNeil's grocery and fruit store. The directing head of the Mi-Daily concern is F. J. Jonas, a cigar manufacturer of many years' experience and for several months manager of the Mi-Lola local branch factory.
Mr. Jonas expects a large shipment of tobacco within the next couple of days, when the making of cigars will be started by a small force of experienced hands, but it may be several weeks before any of the product is marketed. This delay will allow the goods to thoroughly "season" and also to await the shipment of 100,000 paper bands or wrappers, an order for the engraving and printing of which was sent to an eastern concern.

The name "Mi-Daily" has been registered and Mr. Jonas hopes to make it a popular one among smokers as it will be his aim to turn out a brand of 10 cent cigars that will please the most exacting. What is expected to be a very effective method of advertising will be started shortly.

LEGION CAR SALE GETS UNDER WAY

CAMPAIGN FOR BENEFIT OF ME-MORIAL FUND OF LOCAL POST IS NOW IN PROGRESS

The American Legion campaign for the sale of a new Ford Sedan, the proceeds to go to the memorial fund of the local post, was started Tuesday.

The post, at a meeting at the Elks club Monday evening, made final arrangements for the sale and transacted other business. Leo Kowalski was elected vice post commander to fill a vacancy and two special committees were appointed, one to assist former service men in obtaining employment and the other to assist in the organization of a woman's auxiliary to the post. The employment committee consists of Dr. F. A. Walkora, J. William Clifford, Dr. L. P.
Paworski and M. E. Check.

The post, at Monday's meeting, also discussed plans for a membership campaign to be put on in the near future.

RENT BOARD LABOR NEEDS NO FINANCING

BLAINE VETO NOTE
GOVERNOR SAYS RAILWAY COM-MISSION CAN PERFORM DUTIES WITHOUT
CALLING FOR MONEY

Madison, Wis., March 8.—The Milwaukee rent board emergency appropriation of $10,000 was vetoed by Governor John J. Blaine today. In returning the bill to the legislature without his approval, the governor took occasion sharply to reprimand the railroad commission, under which the rent law was administered. He said the Railroad commission had sufficient funds, in his opinion, to carry on the work of administration, and told the legislature it was the plain duty of the commission to continue the work.

REVISION OF TAXES FIRST ON PROGRAM

HARDING FAVORS EARLY ACTION BY CONGRESS TO GIVE RELIEF FROM WAR-
TIME BURDENS

Washington, March 8.—A complete revision of the burdensome war tax laws will be undertaken as one of the first major tasks of the special session of congress, it appeared certain today, as the result of President Harding's first conference with the senate and house leaders and other developments.

In accordance with the announced policy of Harding that domestic affairs are of pressing importance in the congressional program, it was learned President Harding was inclined to believe that modification of taxes should precede general tariff revision.

It was the prevailing opinion of senate and house members at the president's "harmony dinner" Tuesday evening that taxes should be modified first.

CLASS MEETS WEDNESDAY

Over-age conditions in local schools, based on a partial survey which has enrolled in the child training course at the Vocational school on Wednesday evening. The meeting is called for 7:45 o'clock.

of the Junction City graded school also gave musical selections. The Misses

REDUCTION AFFECTS THIRTY
THOUSANDS OF EMPLOYEES
LIVING IN CITY OF CHICAGO

Chicago, March 8.—The wages of 200,000 employees of packing companies were cut approximately 12 1/2 per cent today. The basic eight-hour

ing the war, was abolished.

The decision affects about 30,000 employees in Chicago. The remaining are in 11 other principal market centers in the country.

Notices of the cut in wages was posted at all packing plants today.
The men had not been informed of the move previously, and there was considerable anxiety among the packers as to what their reaction might be.

Debts and Exports

The one thing sure about German reparation is that Germany cannot pay an indemnity to the allies unless she pays it directly or indirectly, in goods. That is to say, she cannot pay unless she can develop a profitable export trade, selling more than she buys.
And the allies are in the absurd position of trying to keep out her goods—through a heavy tax on her exports—and collect billions from her at the same time.

The one thing sure about repayment of the $10,000,000,000 the allies owe our government and the several billions more they owe our private business interests is that they, likewise, cannot pay us unless they pay mainly in goods. Their debts were incurred through buying from us vastly more than they sold to us. We have most of the gold in the world, and they have little except the power to produce raw materials and manufactured goods.
Yet large numbers of American business men, and some law-makers as well, while disavowing any desire to curb those allied debts, are determined to prevent any considerable influx of imports.

If the allied debts are to be cancelled, very well! But does the nation want them canceled? There is no sign of such a desire.

There is more concerned, too, than the mere payment of war obligations by Germany to the allies and by the allies to the United States, important as that consideration undoubtedly is.
Disinterested economists insist that our own export trade is at stake. We cannot continue exporting goods indefinitely, they say, in return for mere promises to pay. There must be actual payment, and for a while, until the debt is made more nearly even, a large part of that payment must be made in goods. It is merely a question of taking payment in the kind of goods that will interfere least with our own industries.

Truth from Russia

The latest authentic news of a vital nature from Russia was brought the other day by Morris Schwartz, a California socialist, when he landed in New York. With his wife, a writer known as Jessie H. Moller, an American from Wisconsin, he went to Russia to attend the Third International in Moscow. Here is part of his report:

"The people are dying not only from exhaustion and privation, but from ghastly, terrifying fright—fear of what the government will do, for in Russia
no man may dare express his opinions, nor may men assemble in groups to discuss the government. The people cannot talk freely—the walls have ears.
"The informers of the bolsheviks are everywhere and a man who offends in any way is dragged from his bed at the point of a bayonet, hurried away from his friends and family and shot without jury trial.

man's Party at Washington.

If this prime object of the convention can be enforced in state and nation, many grave injustices to women, now permissible under the country's existing laws, will be remedied. Discriminations against women in property rights, jury duty, divorce, the guardianship of children and in offenses against sex morality will be removed.
Nobody can object justly to the correction of these age-long abuses. Instead the world will be a fairer and more wholesome place for everybody for will the final removal of these abuses be as difficult as it would have been a few years ago, for the nation has made long strides toward a better understanding of woman's true place in life and in human affairs.

If, in return, women find that "absolute equality" means the yielding of some of their ancient privileges—for instance having the husband held responsible for the wife's debts no matter what her source of income or her activities may be—they will meet the situation calmly and without regret, knowing that equal rights imply equal responsibilities, and that those whose lives are governed by justice have small need of special privileges.

Divided Courts

"Why is it," asks the Chicago Tribune, "that in nearly all decisions of the supreme court the most interesting opinions are delivered by the dissenting?"

This witty comment serves to emphasize the fact that in many of the most important decisions lately the court has been far from unanimous.
The minority has often been nearly as large as the majority. Sometimes, owing to the absence of some of the members, the "majority decision" has actually been rendered by four men, or a minority of the whole court. Lattely, as the Tribune intimates, the minority opinion has frequently been of sufficient force to create general public interest and has moved large numbers of people to question whether that minority was not right, rather than the majority.

There is stronger tendency than ever to doubt the wisdom of allowing a mere majority of jurists to determine vital questions in the fundamental law of the land which shall be binding on a whole nation. It is suggested, with increasing frequency, that if decisions of the supreme tribunal are not unanimous, it should be required that they shall be concurred in by a larger majority than five out of nine. Some such change seems desirable in order to make justice more certain and preserve the people's respect for the law and its representatives.

There can be no harshness in making the German indemnity high enough to bring German taxes up to the tax level of the allied nations.

They say the mortality is higher among the "dry agents" than it is among soldiers. Also higher among the wet experimenters than it ever was among bar patrons.

The bitterest thing about having to pay that $55,000,000,000 indemnity is Germany's reflection that if she had won, she would have made the allies pay her several times that much.

Charles Evans Hughes

Charles Evans Hughes, premier of the Harding administration, is considered to be one of the ablest lawyers in the United States. Estimates of his earning power during the last few years run into a half a million annually. He gave up this to help President Harding steer the ship as captain.

Ten close to Hughes say that his ambition is to return to the supreme bench, from which party demands dragged him in 1916. There is even a suspicion that at the proper time, Harding will allow Hughes to retire from the cabinet to resume his place on the highest tribunal of the nation, namely as chief justice.

Hughes was born in Glen Falls,
Harrison county, N. Y., April 11, 1862.
His father, David Charles Hughes, a cabinet minister, was a native of Wales, and his mother, Mary C. Connelly, a native of Delaware county, N. Y.

Until he was ten years old the father of Charles had full charge of his education, after which he attended public schools in Oswego, N. Y.; Covack, N. J., and New York City.
His fourteenth year he entered Babson (now Colgate) college, Huntton, N. Y., but changed to Brown university, Providence, R. I., two years later. At his graduation from Brown in the class of 1881 Hughes received third in scholarship.

After graduation Hughes taught mathematics and Greek in Delaware academy, Delhi, N. Y., and studied law in his spare time. He entered Columbia law school in 1882 and was admitted to the bar two years later.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

but in 1891, his health failing, he became professor of law at Cornell.
In 1895 he resumed practice with his old law firm, Carter, Hughes & Cravath.
Hughes first attracted public attention in 1905 by his brilliant work as special counsel for the legislative commission probing the gas and electric companies in New York City. As a result there was a public demand for a general investigation of the Equitable Life Assurance scandal.
A moving committee, headed by State Senator Armstrong, immediately called upon Hughes. The startling disclosures brought out by Hughes were chiefly responsible for his twice being elected governor of New York state.

Hughes was first mentioned as a candidate for the presidency in 1908.
In the same year he was renominated for governor. In 1908 Hughes stimulated the country for Taft and drew considerable attention and influence to his favor.

Taft appointed Hughes in 1910 to fill a vacancy in the United States supreme court. At the Republican national convention in 1916 the delegates nominated Hughes as their candidate for the presidency.

Hughes was defeated by Woodrow Wilson, but for several days the result hung in the balance. Immediately after his defeat for the presidency, Hughes returned to the practice of law. When the United States entered the war against the central powers, Hughes became a state department war work. Throughout the war he was a member of the department of justice, New York City.
Hughes is a member of the American Bar Association. He has been a member of the New York university and a member of numerous clubs, including the Union League and University

"HOTEL DAY"
TO END DRIVE

EXTENSIVE ONE-DAY CAMPAIGN IS PLANNED TO PUT PRO-JECT ACROSS WITH SUCCESS

MARCH 11 DECIDED UPON

MORE THAN 100 MEN AND WO-MEN WILL ORGANIZE FOR BIG WIND-UP

Every share of stock in the Stevens Point Hotel company needed to set the hotel project across will be subscribed for by Saturday if plans which were made at the noon-day conference last Saturday are carried through to a successful consummation. Friday of this week has been designated as hotel day when an intensive drive will be put on as a close feature of the campaign.

To Intensify Drive
The salesmen at their Friday meeting discussed ways and means of intensifying the drive. Several suggestions were offered and M. M. Ames and Secretary F. L. Body were selected to submit a program at the Saturday meeting. These men presented a detailed plan, which met with unanimous endorsement and will be carried out.

The names of 100 men and 20 women were selected, most of whom are already stockholders in the hotel company. They will meet in the club rooms this evening at 7:30 when they will be apportioned the names of a number of prospects and will be asked to solicit them for stock on Friday of next week. It is planned to make Friday the concluding day of the campaign, putting across a one-day drive which will make all other business of secondary importance. It was suggested that Mayor J. N. Welsch declare a public holiday but this was voted down as the opinion was expressed that local citizens have enough interest in the hotel to take the time to make the necessary canvass.

All-Day Campaign
All day Friday will be devoted to interviewing prospects and thus expedite the placing of the balance of the stock. Salesmen point out that this plan is better, than taking several hours each day which unnecessarily draws out the campaign.

Blodgett Subscribers
C. E. Blodgett of the Blodgett hotel at Marshfield is listed among the latest subscribers for hotel stock. Mr.
Blodgett has taken out a $500 block of stock. In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce he writes: "The endowed speaks for itself. Just to show you my heart is in the right place."

GREEN BAY MAN BELIEVES IN-VESTMENT A GOOD ONE PROMPTLY TAKES
OUT SHARES

Traveling salesmen are continuing to take an interest in Stevens Point's new hotel project in a material way.
W. C. Mittelstadt of Green Bay, representative of the Firestone Tire & Rubber company, while in the city on a business trip Friday, took out a block of stock in the new company, believing the investment a good one.

Local hotel capacity continues to be overcrowded, Secretary F. Leslie Body of the Chamber of Commerce reports.
At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon every room at the Jarvis House had been taken and it was necessary to find accommodations for 11 others elsewhere.

to this effect was received by Dr.

fact that the credits at the local institution were honored by instructors of a government school is considered a compliment to the efficiency of the Stevens Point High school.

CONDEMN HIGH PRICED
STOCK FOODS

PROMINENT HOG RAISER SAYS
PRICES CHARGED ARE UNWAR-RANTED—MAKES HIS OWN
HOG FOOD, WITH BETTER RESULTS

"That he is all through paying fancy prices for stock foods and hog remedies and that he is raising some of the best hogs ever placed on the market" was the statement made recently by E. H. Beckstead, well-known hog raiser and authority on live stock.

Mr. Beckstead's hogs are the envy of his neighbors and have "topped the market" for several years in Iowa. He states that for years he bought high-priced hog foods and hog remedies, but he is all through paying extravagant prices for what he can make himself. He states that what the hogs need are minerals, and tells the secret of his wonderful success by explaining that he takes about five pounds of ordinary mineral (which is pure concentrated minerals) and mixes same with enough bran or filler to make a hundred pounds. All hogs and especially brood sows require minerals as they keep them free from worms, and in the pink of condition, and are essential to the hogs growth and a well balanced ration. This inexpensive mixture placed in a sheltered box where the hogs can get at it as they need it, will produce far better results than any high priced so-called
stock foods.

Send two dollars to The Mineraline
Chemical Co., 1638 North Wells St., Chicago, Ill., and they will forward you by prepaid parcel post, enough mineraline to make a full hundred pounds. (Adv.) G-4w.

BOLSHEVIK FOES HOLD PETROGRAD

RUSSIAN REVOLUTIONISTS REPORTED TO HAVE STRENGTHENED HOLD ON ROMAN CAPITAL

REDS PREDICT A COLLAPSE

MESSAGE RECEIVED IN NEW YORK FROM MOSCOW IS OPTIMISTIC

UNITED PRESS SUMMARY

Russian revolutionists, according to a Scandinavian report today, have strengthened their hold on Petrograd and the surrounding territory. Red troops sent to the region to meet the expedition of 37,000 sailors and workers from Kronstadt were reported to have been driven back by heavy shelling from the naval fortress and a captured battleship.

One of the most magnetic orators, Gregory Vinovieff, has gone to the front to bolster the bolshevik morale, but reports said his task appeared hopeless.

The loyalty of the garrison outside Petrograd was questioned. They were taking part in the firing, but because of heavy fog it could not be determined what faction they supported. It was believed they are in rebel hands.

The revolutionists were reported to have killed or captured every bolshevik commissary in Petrograd.

Moscow Optimistic

New York, March 8.—"All is quiet in Moscow and Petrograd. The mutineers at Kronstadt are already fighting among themselves and a complete collapse of the insurrection is expected," said an official message from Moscow, given out today at the office of Soviet Russia, a magazine published here. The message was dated March 6.

Rebels Hold Petrograd

London, March 8.—All bolshevik commissaries in Petrograd have been killed or taken prisoner by the revolutionists, according to foreign office advices received here today. Dispatches from Helsingfors confirmed the report that all Petrograd, except the fortresses Peter and Paul, was in rebel hands.

Reds Are Defeated

Helsingfors, Finland, (March 8)—Red troops, aided by Chinese mercenaries, attempted to stem the rebels' march on Petrograd at Waschostrow late yesterday, but were repulsed by heavy fire from the battleship Petropavlovsk.

The region about Petrograd surrounded today with heavy firing. The most severe bombardments occurred between Petrograd and the island fortress of Kronstadt. The firing between these two points began last night after the breaking off of negotiations.

AN OLD TRUNK TREASURE BOX SEARCHSHOWS

VALUABLE PAPERS AND CASH WORTH $34,000 FOUND IN HOME OF MRS. VAN
HOUTEN

RELIGIOUS SOCIETY PAID HER ANNUITY

SAVED MOST OF INCOME FROM

Certificates of deposit, notes, bonds, checks and cash representing an aggregate value of approximately $34,000, together with jewelry and other valuables, were found in the residence of the late Mrs. Edith Van Houten, 435 Church street, by L. P. Moen, public administrator, with the assistance of County Clerk A. E. Bourn, Chief of Police John S. Hoffsoos and Sheriff John A. Berry, in a search completed this morning.

Mrs. Van Houten, who was 68 years of age, was found dead in a chair at her home, where she lived alone, Tuesday noon. Immediately after her death steps were taken by the authorities to protect her property, and Undersheriff Manuel Berry was placed in charge of the house. A thorough search of the premises was then made and the valuables listed and placed in custody of Public Administrator Moen.

Inventory of Valuables

The inventory disclosed the following:

- Currency, $445.
- Small change, approximately $5.
- Receipt from First National bank of Stevens Point for Fourth Liberty loan bonds with a par value of $3,000.
- Three $1,000 bonds of the Second Liberty loan.
- Pass book on Minneapolis bank showing balance of $112.99.
- Fourteen certificates of deposit on First National bank, ranging in denomination from $250 to $3,000, a total of $22,127.
- Four notes of the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Benevolent association totalling $5,500.
- One trust deed and two $1,000 gold bonds on the Hinsdale institution for security on loans.
- Two checks on Hinsdale association, one for $250 and one for $30.
- Two gold watches, one gold ring, one garnet brooch, one gold chain, two gold bracelets, six breast pins, two watch chains, one string gold beads, three gold rings, one gold pencil, nine cuff buttons.

Trunk Treasure Chest

The bulk of the valuables was found in an old trunk in an unused room in the house. The currency, which was mostly of $5 denominations, was in three or four places in the trunk. The $3,000 in Liberty bonds and all of the certificates of deposit were also in this treasure chest.

No Will Discovered

The status of Mrs. Van Houten's estate is not known. If she left a will it has not yet been found, and if she did not there is some question as to whether the estate was left in such condition that the heirs-at-law could successfully prosecute claims. Mrs. Eva Clements of Chicago and Mrs. Charlotte Blake of Compton, Quebec, Canada, aunts, are Mrs. Van Houten's nearest living relatives. There are a number of cousins, some of whom reside in Portage county.

Get Two Estates

Mrs. Van Houten's husband, Rodney Van Houten, an early day Stevens Point merchant, died at Hinsdale, Ill., on December 21, 1908. Mr. Van Houten's personal estate consisted of about $5,500 in personal property, but in addition to this he left an interest in the estate of a brother, Walter Van Houten, who died in New York City in September of the same year. Walter Van Houten left the residue of his estate, valued at more than $47,000, to his brother, Rodney.

Turned Over Property

Rodney Van Houten, in his will, left the residue of his estate to his wife for her use and benefit during her natural life, to his widow, and after her death to the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Benevolent association of Hinsdale, Ill. A Seventh Day Adventist institution. It now develops that Mrs. Van Houten, following her husband's death, gave to the Hinsdale institution immediate possession of the property she was willed by her husband in consideration of an annuity of $3,000, payable $250 a month. It is said that approximately $37,000 has been paid to her in this way during the more than 12 years the contract was in force, in addition to which she has received interest on bank deposits and loans. Mrs. Van Houten lived frugally and, as the inventory of her property shows, saved most of her income. She also owned her home and furnishings, valued at about $5,000.

FARMERS OPPOSING DAYLIGHT SAVING

AGENT CLARK APPEARS AGAINST PROPOSAL TO CHANGE HOURS BY LEGISLATION

Portage county farmers are unanimously opposed to daylight saving legislation, according to a report at a Madison conference by W. W. Clark, county agent.

Widens the Gap

"Speaking the mind of the farmers of Marathon county as I have it from many of them, I am justified," writes Frank G. Swoboda, county agent, "in stating that they are practically unanimous in their opposition to it. About a year ago the county board, at one of its meetings, unanimously adopted a resolution opposing the daylight saving plan."

"One big reason for the opposition to the plan is the fact that under the plan the noon hour begins at eleven. Men and teams begin again at twelve and thus are compelled to work in the hottest part of the day, when, under God's plan, they should be taking their noon hour."

"In my mind, forcing the farmer to work and to operate upon such a plan would only tend to widen rather than to narrow the gap which already exists between city and country. During the period when the plan was enforced no end of bitterness was manifested toward residents of the city for the establishment of the system. Producers felt that the convenience of the city was forced upon the country to its great inconvenience. I can see that the adoption of the system will mean an end of friction and trouble. It is, of course, granted that there are advantages to the daylight saving plan, but the disadvantages from the producers standpoint are sufficient to offset the advantages, many times over."

Wood County View

According to Ralph A. Peterson, of Wisconsin Rapids, the daylight savings plan is finding little favor among the farmers of Wood county. In a recent letter he points out that as a general thing farmers make use of all the daylight that is available for their summer work without the adoption of any daylight saving plan. "Changing of the natural time interferes with the working schedule on the farm," he writes. "This is especially so in the haying harvesting and threshing seasons. The dew and dampness of the early morning do not permit early work."

Millard Against It

Opposition to the plan on the part of the potato growers of the state is voiced by James G. Millard, secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers association. "I am very glad to be able to register the opposition of our organization to the promotion of this scheme," says Mr. Millard. "We consider the undesirable conditions prevailing in Chicago, as sufficient argument against the adoption of a similar plan here."

"We would consider the inconvenience to the rest of the state, caused by confusion incident to this system, as a matter for careful consideration before the plan is adopted. We believe the adoption of this plan in Milwaukee would not be well received by a very large percentage of residents of the state who have business dealings in that city."

POCKET VETO KILLS IMPORTANT MEASURES

WILSON REFUSES TO SIGN IMMIGRATION AND ARMY APPROPRIATION BILLS

BEFORE EXIT

Washington, March 4—Two of the most important bills passed by congress at this session were killed by pocket veto of President Wilson.

The president refused to sign the bill restricting immigration during April of 1921. The bill was passed April 1, 1922, to three per cent of the aliens here in 1910.

The pocket veto also killed the army appropriation bill which approved of an army of 154,000 during the next fiscal year.

The soldier hospital bill was signed. This makes $18,000,000 immediately available for hospital construction.

FARMERS GETTING MEN

PROBLEM OF HELP ON THE FARM IS NOT SO BAD THIS YEAR

Madison, Wis., March 7—The eleven free employment offices conducted by the industrial commission placed a larger number of men on farms during February than during the same month in any previous year. During the first three weeks of this month 229 men were referred to places on farms. Since January 1, a total of 626 men has been referred to farmers.

The employment offices report that practically all orders from farmers from their immediate vicinity have been filled. They are finding great difficulty, however, in filling calls for help from a distance, because men hesitate to spend a considerable sum for railroad travel without being absolutely sure of a job when they arrive.

Do you know why it's toasted

To seal in the delicious Maryland tobacco flavor.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

Some farmers are overcoming this handicap by sending the advance railroad fare to the employment office, which protects the farmer by checking the applicant's baggage to him. This advance is taken out of the first month's wages of the men when hired. Farmers who are willing to advance railroad fare to the employment offices can be supplied with help, even if located at a considerable distance from the office. It has been found difficult also to fill orders from farmers who offer less than the going wage, or who refuse to state definitely what wage they will pay. The going wage throughout southern Wisconsin for farm hands is $35 to $50, with some farmers offering as high as $60 and $65 per month. If wages below $35 are offered it is difficult to supply men with farm experience, except tramps, who are un dependable. There are many undesirable men who want work on farms, but there is still some shortage of good experienced men. The employment offices are refusing to lend any tramps to farmers, because they believe that at any wages these men will prove unsatisfactory.

FOR MANY YEARS WE HAVE BEEN MAKING GOOD FLOUR RIGHT HERE IN STEVENS POINT, AND
AT THE SAME TIME GIVING EMPLOYMENT TO STEVENS POINT PEOPLE, PAYING TAXES AND OTHERWISE CONTRIBUTING TO THE UPBUILDING AND WELFARE OF THE CITY AND ITS PEOPLE.

We are a Stevens Point institution, willing and anxious to do our part toward the advancement of the city's interests. And we believe we have a right to ask for, and to expect, the support of people who believe with us that as the community prospers, so too shall each individual in it prosper.

Recently we inaugurated a mill-to-consumer sales system, covering flour and all other products of our mill. We did this in order to enable the people of this vicinity, both city people and farmers, to effect a substantial saving in their purchases of flour and feed; to make Stevens Point a more attractive market, and to create a larger demand for our products.

We have achieved success in all of these aims, for our new system has saved the public money, has drawn more trade to the city, and has created a larger demand for our products. We are more than pleased with the results so far and wish to thank the public for its hearty endorsement of our plan, as evidenced by the support given it.

WE ASK THE PEOPLE OF THIS VICINITY TO

TAXATION ISSUE STILL UNSETTLED

LEGISLATURE DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF WHETHER TO LEVY SURTAX OR BORROW MONEY.

BLAINE WOULD GO EASY

GOVERNOR WOULD ASSESS BIG INCOMES TO PROVIDE NEEDED FUNDS

Madison, March 8. The legislature is divided upon the subject of taxation. A prolonged discussion of the question that will carry the session into the summer is predicted by members here.

There are two theories advanced as to the best means of carrying the expense of the state government over the reconstruction period. One theory is advocated by the administration. Governor Blaine, though not explicit on this subject in his message believes Wisconsin should pay as it goes. He would stop up the gap between the state's income and the state expense by means of a surtax.

General property is taxed all the traffic will bear, the governor holds, and additional revenue should be gathered from those best able to pay—the class enjoying incomes.

Surtax Opposed
Many legislators take a different view. They say a surtax would impose obligations upon industry that would sadly handicap the state's business. Industry, they point out, will be most affected by a surtax, and it now is staggering under a heavy load.

The opposition would borrow money to fill the gap between income and outgo. There are millions in available cash in the highway funds, they say. This money is not needed in construction now. Why not use it if they ask, instead of levying additional taxes in these times of stress and uncertainty?

The Hanson Bill
The first of the tax measures will be reported out this week in the assembly. The Hanson bill repealing the personal property offset is expected to be considered Thursday or Friday. There is nothing new in the issues raised except the demand for money is perhaps more pressing now. The repeal of the personal property offset has been threshed out on the floor at many sessions. The bill may appeal to assemblymen with greater force this session because it will yield more than $2,000,000.

Discussion of the personal property offset is but the preliminary skirmish. The primary engagement will come after the public hearing on the income and surtax bills, set for March 24. No committee hearings are scheduled for this date and the members of both houses are expected to listen to discussion of the different measures.

Hint of Special Session
Administration followers are apparently without information as to how far the governor will go in an effort to secure legislative approval of the Severson surtax bill. Some understand the governor will call the legislators back in extra session until they do pass the measure. Others say the governor will yield to a legislative majority should it decide against the surtax though he will impress his belief that the state should pay as it goes.

It is either a surtax or borrowing highway funds, legislators say. Very few believe appropriations can be held within speaking distance of the state's income.

SCHOOL QUESTIONS DEMAND ATTENTION

CONSIDERATION OF BUDGETS FOR NORMALS AMONG MATTERS BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Madison, Wis., March 8. The problem of the normal school system was discussed in the assembly today. The session began at 10:30 a. m. when the assembly considered the bill to amend the board of education.

The controversy between the state and the normal school system is still in the air. The bill to amend the board of education will be a test of the governor's policy. It will be a test of the governor's policy. It will be a test of the governor's policy.

This session is expected to be a busy one. The legislature will consider the normal school budgets during the week.

MILK PRICES STEADY

MARKETING DIVISION REPORTS LITTLE CHANGE DURING FEBRUARY

Madison, Wis., March 7. "There has been no decided change in city milk prices in the state," says the Marketing Division in its February report. There were some noticeable changes in some of the cities but the state average prices changed but little, this change being a small drop in the price paid to the farmer for milk and in the price paid by the consumer. The change in Ashland and Chippewa Falls was most noticeable where the price to the consumer dropped two cents per quart. The average price paid to farmers in January in the same cities reporting for that month and February was $2.62 per hundred pounds, while the February average was $2.58. The average price per quart to consumers dropped four tenths of a cent. The following table gives the price to consumers in some of the cities of the state.

FORM VALLEY BALL LEAGUE

REPRESENTATIVES OF EIGHT CITIES INCLUDING STEVENS POINT HOLD MEETING AT WAUSAU

JUDGE PARK ARBITRATOR

NAMED TO SETTLE DISPUTES WHICH MAY ARISE DURING THE SEASON

The Wisconsin River Valley Baseball League was formally organized at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at Wausau on Wednesday evening. The league will include the cities of Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield, Stratford, Schofield, Mosinee, Merrill and Tomahawk.

Local Man Treasurer
Officers were elected at the Wausau meeting as follows:
President, A. G. Kernin, Mosinee.
Vice President, W. B. Schmidt, Tomahawk.
Secretary, R. G. Sayer, Schofield.
Treasurer, C. W. Eagleburger, Stevens Point.

Circuit Judge Byron B. Park of this city was unanimously elected arbitrator for the league and will settle any disputes which may arise without salary. Judge Park has consented to hold this office.

The board of directors of the league will be composed of one man from each club. A schedule committee was appointed to list the coming season's games and a tentative schedule will be gone over at a later meeting with the board of directors when dates of inter-city games will be definitely decided upon.

Salary Limit Set
A salary limit, which is always a bone of contention among teams in small leagues, was placed at $125 per game. This means that no club will be permitted to spend more than that amount for the services of players who may participate in any one contest. This will also tend to make the personnel of each team representative as a majority of the players will be local men.

Opening games in the league will be played by teams representing four groups of two cities each which have been classified by their proximity to each other. Stevens Point being grouped with Wisconsin Rapids for the opening game for the locals. Coins were flipped to decide the city in which the game in each group would be played. Stevens Point lost to the Rapids and the local team will therefore open the season at Wisconsin Rapids at a date to be definitely decided upon by the schedule committee. Tomahawk will play at Merrill in an opening game, Stratford at Marshfield and Schofield at Mosinee. In the course of the season's schedule each team in the league will play at least four games with every other team.

Noel May Return
Season tickets at $10 each will be sold here to raise funds to start the season for the local team. Bruce Noel, last season's pitcher for Stevens Point, whose pitching was a sensation, will probably return to the local line-up. He is now at his home in Oshkosh. Further than this, however, no selections have been made.

C. W. Eagleburger of this city, the league's treasurer, was Stevens Point's representative at the Wausau meeting.

CHAMBER AT RAPIDS REJECTS GAS PLANT

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE REPORTS PROJECT WOULD BE IMPRACTICAL AT THIS TIME

Wisconsin Rapids will not have a gas plant supported or endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, according to a decision by that body which unanimously adopted a report setting forth that such a project would be impractical at this time. The fact that nearly 100 electric ranges are now in use in that city, coupled with the belief that it would be impossible to secure more than 400 gas consumers, were elements which resulted in the rejection of the gas plan.

Basing his figures on those which were found to be effective in Stevens Point, Chester P. Gross, who headed an investigating committee, showed that with 400 gas consumers the rate per thousand feet of gas would have to be $2.55 to break even, while with 600 consumers it would have to be $2.19 to meet actual operation expenses. A rate of $2.30 should return a surplus fund of $1,584 at the end of the first year while a rate of $2.40 should bring in $3,024.

BISHOP HERE ON SUNDAY
Bishop R. H. Weller of Fond du Lac conducted the service at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the church of the Intercession and also preached at the 10:45 o'clock service. The subject of his sermon was "The Feeding of the Five Thousand."

BIG ATTENDANCE MARKS MEETING HELD THURSDAY AT THE WITT HALL

A potato and soy bean growers' association, with a membership of 50, was organized at a farmers' meeting held Thursday at Kellner. The first meeting of the organization will be held at Kellner March 21. R. A. Peterson, county agricultural agent of Wood county, and W. W. Clark, Portage county agent, will be the principal speakers. Mr. Trego, a farmer who resides in the vicinity of Kellner was elected president of the association.

The principal speakers at Thursday's meeting, which was held at the Witt hall, were J. W. Brann, potato expert from the College of Agriculture, Madison, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Clark. Mr. Brann's subject was "The Cultivation and Improvement of Potatoes." Mr. Peterson spoke on the liming of soil and Mr. Clark gave an address on the marketing of potatoes. The first session was held in the morning. At the afternoon session there were about 75 farmers in attendance and in the evening a home-talent program was given before an audience of about 250 people, which filled the hall.

A feature of the program was the rendering of two old songs "The Farmer's Life" and "Yankee Doodle," by Mr. Ely, who is more than eighty years of age and has lived for many years in the Kellner neighborhood. The Kellner band played several selections. A petition for a farmers' institute to be held at Kellner next year was circulated and signed at the meeting.

A farmers' meeting was also held at Almond Wednesday afternoon, at which Mr. Clark and Mr. Brann were speakers. In addition to the speaking there was a discussion on the subject of potato marketing. About 75 farmers were in attendance at this meeting.

Pine Tree Claw open for easy cleaning. Straight shoot for brush through short milk tubes.

Clean milk tubes with small brush and test cap with large brush. Test cap need not be taken apart every washing.

Pail head, with Pulsator removed, ready to be dipped in water for thorough washing.

Easy to clean and Easy to keep clean

If there is one thing more than others that Pine Tree users brag about, it is the ease of cleaning the Pine Tree. Every part of the machine touched by the milk was planned in the first place to be easily accessible, and without crevices for milk to lodge in.

I want to take you out to several Pine Tree jobs around here and let you see just how the average farmer cleans his outfit in a few minutes. No milk ever touches the Pulsator—and you take it off in a second to leave the pail head free for washing and sterilizing.

The claw is perfectly open—no long tubes—no "blind tubes". The test cups and rubber tubes are easily cleaned with brushes without taking them apart every time you wash the machine.

The Pine Tree has made a great reputation as the milking machine for Certified milk plants. I know of a prominent New York man who keeps his average bacteria count down below 4000 without ice or steam, right through the summer, too. Mr. H. H. Boyle of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, says he never succeeded in keeping his count down very low until he put in Pine Tree.

Don't Buy Any Milker Till You See the Pine Tree

You can't afford to make any mistake in selecting a milker. I claim I have the grade 7 milker ever made and I am here to prove it. First I'll show you all the good features of the machine itself. Then I'll give you the evidence of some of the most prominent dairymen in the country. Finally I'll take you to men you know right around here, who will tell you what they know from experience. Let's get together right away and talk over this important matter. You will make money by figuring with me.

YOUTH ARRESTED ROBBING STORE

VILLAGE OF ALMOND, EXPERIENCES EXCITEMENT WHEN POSSIBLE CAPTURES BURGLAR

SENTENCED BY JUDGE PARK

PRISONER, CLAIMING MINNEAPOLIS AS HOME, TO BE INVESTIGATED

The village of Almond experienced some excitement early Saturday morning, when an attempt to burglarize the general store of Manley & Soule was discovered by a party of young people returning from a dance at Plainfield.

Elmer Soule, one of the members of the firm, was notified and he in turn notified the village marshal, Ward Staples. Soon afterwards a posse formed and surrounded the store. A command was given for the intruder to surrender, which he did without resistance, and he was placed in the village lockup. The prisoner, who gave the name of William Anderson and his address as Minneapolis, was turned over to Undersheriff Manuel Berry Saturday morning and late that afternoon, after Anderson had been brought to the county jail in Stevens Point, a warrant was issued charging him with burglary in the night time.

Pleads Guilty

On Monday Anderson was arraigned before County Judge Owen, entered a plea of guilty and waived preliminary examination. He expressed a desire to be taken before Circuit Judge Park as soon as possible, and Monday afternoon was sentenced to 3 years in the reformatory at Green Bay. Judge Park, however, instructed the sheriff to hold the prisoner at the county jail while his record is investigated. There is a possibility that, if it is found that his statements regarding himself are correct, he may be paroled.

Last of Family

Anderson, according to the story he told the authorities, is 21 years of age and the only member of his family surviving. His father and mother, he said, died when he was 14 years of age, and two sisters died during the influenza epidemic. For several years he has wandered about, working here and there. He was at Fond du Lac last week and was unsuccessful in finding work. He then decided to go to Marshfield, and it was while beating his way on a North Western train bound for that city that he was put off at Almond on Friday.

Hungry and Broke

Anderson was hungry and broke, he told the authorities. The first thing he thought of doing on his arrival in Almond was to get something to eat. He went to the rear of the Manley & Soule store, took out a light of glass from a window by removing the glass, reached in, pulled out the latch, raised the window and climbed inside the store. Once inside he proceeded to get something to eat, which consisted of crackers, peanut butter and canned minced ham. Then, having satisfied his hunger, he moved to go further with his theft. He got three or four dollars in change from a cash register, helped himself to an overcoat which he put on and was getting ready to depart with other articles of clothing when he was discovered. Matches which he lighted to find his way about the store were his undoing, for it was the flashes from these that attracted the attention of the party returning from the dance.

His First Offense

Authorities are inclined to believe Anderson's statement that this is his first offense. He apparently made no attempt to hide anything. When arrested he wore overalls and a mackinaw under the overcoat he attempted to steal.

"I didn't dare show myself before a window for fear I'd be shot," he said when discussing his capture.

PROMISES TO HELP GET POTATO TARIFF

CONGRESSMAN BROWNE WRITES THAT HE IS IN FAVOR OF PROTECTIVE LEGISLATION

Tariff legislation in the interests of Wisconsin potato growers will receive the support of Congressman Edward L. Browne. In a letter to the secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce replying to a letter urging a tariff on potato flour, potato starch and dehydrated potatoes, Mr. Browne writes under date of March 2 as follows:

"It is impossible to enact any tariff legislation during the Wilson administration. President-elect Harding will undoubtedly call a special session of congress at an early date at which time they will take up the matter of tariff and commodity duties."

"I realize the importance of placing protective legislation on potato products, not only on potatoes but on all potato products and other organizations produce products from them and do not do all the work and in the meantime receive no credit for it."

GIFTS PRESENTED TO LOCAL CHURCH ANNOUNCED SUNDAY

MEMBERS OF PARISH DONATE BRONZE TABERNACLE—BISHOP R. H. WELLER GIVES COPE

A bronze tabernacle, a sanctuary lamp, a cope and statues of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and of St. Joseph are included among the gifts which have been presented to St. Stephen's Catholic church to be used in the recently completed bazaar at the corner of Clark and Pine streets, in which services are now held.

The tabernacle was purchased with part of a fund of $385 voluntarily contributed by members of the parish. It cost $250, and the remainder of the fund will be used in the installation of a marble altar in the basement. The tabernacle is fireproof, dustproof and burglarproof. It is about 18 inches in height, 18 inches in width and two feet in length, weighs three hundred pounds and is made up of two heavy walls between which a layer of asbestos is inserted. The two sets of doors swing back at the turn of a key, disclosing the blessed sacrament.

The cope, which is to be used in the benediction services, was presented to the parish by the Right Rev. R. H. Weller, of Fond du Lac, through the kindness of Rev. E. Croft Gear, Bishop Weller, former pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Intercession here, is a close friend of many of the members of St. Stephen's parish and of Rev. W. J. Rice, former pastor of the church.

The Steven-Waller company gave the sanctuary lamp to the parish. The lamp is made of brass and is suspended before the altar by brass chains. The two statues, which were given by a friend who did not disclose his identity, will be mounted in the basement in the near future.

A report of the gifts and the names of those who contributed them was read at the service Sunday afternoon.

TOURNEY AT NORMAL BEGINS ON THURSDAY

EIGHT STRONGEST BASKETBALL TEAMS IN CENTRAL WISCONSIN TO COMPETE FOR HONORS

The seventh annual district basketball tournament will be held at the State Normal gymnasium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Twelve games are to be played in all, the schedule including one contest on Thursday afternoon, three Thursday evening, two Friday afternoon, two Friday evening, two on Saturday afternoon and two on Saturday evening.

The central Wisconsin high school teams which have been selected to compete are Antigo, Medford, Portage, Rhinelander, Stevens Point, Wausau, Wautoma and Weyauwega. The winner of the tourney will compete at Madison two weeks later against the winners of tournaments conducted by the eight other Normal schools and Stout Institute, to decide the state championship. Last year the Stevens Point High school won the local district championship while Superior won the state title.

A student committee composed of Rudolph Wilson, Rhody Rice and Robert Andrews has been assisting Coach J. E. Swetland in preparing for this week's athletic attraction. Rooms have been engaged for the contestants, the floor lines, basketball stops and bleachers painted and an extra section of bleachers constructed which will seat 50 more people. Seventy-five visitors are expected in all, including players and coaches. In addition to this number large delegations of rooters are expected from Antigo, Rhinelander and Wausau providing teams from those cities figure in the semi-finals or finals. The games will be refereed by Messrs J. E. Swetland, H. R. Steiner and Harold S. Dyer.

WAUPACA HIGH WINS TRIANGLE

STEVENS POINT AND PORTAGE DEBATING TEAMS DEFEATED IN INTER-SCHOOL TIE EVENT

TWO LOCAL TEAMS BEATEN

NEGATIVE SPEAKERS LOSE BY UNANIMOUS DECISION HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Waupaca's High school debating team won the right to represent the Portage-Stevens Point-Waupaca triangle of the state debate contest, when speakers from that school were awarded a unanimous decision over the Stevens Point High school's negative team here Saturday evening. The question for debate was "Resolved, that the Esch-Cummins law is the best solution of the present railway problem."

Two Other Contests

The Waupaca negative team Friday afternoon beat the Portage affirmative debaters 2 to 1 at Waupaca, while the Portage High school's negative team eliminated Stevens Point from the race Friday evening at Portage when it was awarded a unanimous decision of the judges over the Stevens Point affirmative team. Waupaca thus won the triangle with five votes, Portage being second with four, and Stevens Point necessarily took the last place with none.

The debate Saturday evening was close, both teams showing good talent, and considerable research work in their arguments. Waupaca was represented by Merle Christenson, Carol Jensen, and Harold Danielson. The Stevens Point debaters were John Redfield, Irving Maurer and Myron Finch. The judges were Professors G. E. Culver and W. A. Clark of the Stevens Point Normal and Professor Nelson, principal of the Chippewa Falls High school.

Waupaca Defends Law

The Waupaca team pointed out in its constructive case that, as government control, operation or ownership is impossible at the present time and unregulated private operation has been a failure, the Esch-Cummins law is the best method of solution because it combines private ownership with strict and close government regulation. The Waupaca debaters also pointed out that the so-called "guarantee" feature of the law is justifiable on the grounds that railroad stocks, being the most important stocks in the country, and the railroad industry being the greatest in the land, it was necessary to stabilize such securities.

Claim Unfairness

The Stevens Point team opposed the law on the ground that it is unfair to the general public, that it provides for the recognition of "watered" stock by the Interstate Commerce commission in its determination of rates, and that it does not give the Interstate Commerce commission the power to compel economies as practised under government control of the railroads. They presented an alternative plan, giving the Interstate Commerce commission this power, but advocating that the "guarantee" provided for in the law be set at a lower rate than 5 1/2 per cent. The Stevens Point team declared that thus far the law has been a failure, and cited statements of railroad men showing that the terms of the law had not even been complied with.

Before the decision of the judges was announced, and immediately after the conclusions of the debate, Miss Ethel Blake of the Stevens Point High school played a piano solo. A fair sized crowd attended.

The Portage Debate

Springing a surprise argument on their opponents in a concluding speech, Portage High school debaters won a unanimous decision over three Stevens Point High school speakers at Portage on Friday evening. Kenneth Seelye, Leslie Huber and Anton Pfiffner composed the local affirmative team which debated against a Portage negative team.

The concluding Portage speaker proposed as a substitute measure the Davis plan which provides for an automatic consolidation of all railroads in the United States into one complete unit with more strict government supervision than the Esch-Cummins law. It was proposed to sell stock to railroad employees and other citizens.

Answer Surprise Case

The local speakers in their rebuttal answered these arguments by contending that the Davis plan would be a financial impossibility at that time and that the return on the investment would not be attractive enough to make the sale of stock possible. They further argued that no other plan would be able to cope with present conditions as well or any better than the Esch-Cummins law, presenting facts and figures to establish their case.

The debate at Portage was judged by H. B. Anderson of Portage, W. C. Jensen of Rhinelander and F. C. Rude of Stevens Point.

POMP ABSENT AS OHIO SON TAKES OFFICE

SIMPLE CEREMONIES, WITNESSED BY CROWD OF 50,000, ARE CARRIED OUT USHERING IN NEW ADMINISTRATION

WILSON IS PRESENT WITH HIS SUCCESSOR

ACCOMPANIES NEW EXECUTIVE INTO SENATE CHAMBER, WHERE COOLIDGE IS SWORN

Inaugural Stand, Washington, D. C., March 4.—At 1:19 p. m. today, Warren G. Harding of Ohio, in a clear, firm voice, repeated the oath of office as president of the United States.

Before the cheering had died away, Harding stepped forward and extended his arms in gesture embracing the whole crowd of 50,000, who stood before him, and started his inaugural address.

Ten feet away, with her eyes upon his face, stood Mrs. Harding. Grouped about were dignitaries of his government, representatives of foreign nations and a vast assembly of plain, every-day Americans. It was just five minutes from the hour when Harding stepped upon the stand at the east front of the capitol until the moment when, with uplifted hands, he became the chief executive of the nation.

Harding's voice, as he spoke his inaugural address from a manuscript was firm and a trifle husky. Repeated shouts of approval from the edges of the crowd testified that his words were carrying to every edge of the vast multitude.

Attorney General Palmer and Postmaster General Burleson were the only men of the Wilson cabinet visible in the inaugural stand, both standing with Democratic senators, of whom there were a large number. A few minutes after Harding began speaking a woman fainted within ten feet of the stand, directly in front of Harding. Mrs. Harding, noting the occurrence, leaned over the railing and showed deep concern. The woman was given first aid by a marine medical officer.

Harding concluded his address at 1:55. He was immediately surrounded by senators and members of his party. Vice-President Coolidge was the first to congratulate him on his speech. Mrs. Harding was visibly affected. Tears stood in her eyes as she turned to look out over the crowd.

Just before noon, Vice-President Marshall called on the senate to prepare for the ceremonies. Senators thereupon grouped themselves on the left of the vice-president's chair, and in a few moments members of the house, headed by Speaker Gillette, arrived and took seats on Marshall's right. Gillette was escorted to a seat directly beside Marshall, and on his left.

Then with great dignity the sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of high army and navy officials, who paraded to places assigned them. Following came members of the diplomatic corps, ambassadors and ministers, with their attaches, whose gold lace lent a touch of color to the scene. Next arrived the supreme court, with Chief Justice White leading, and the associate justices, in their stiff black robes.

Wilson and Harding At this point the sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of President Wilson and President-elect Harding, who, amid great applause, were escorted by the joint congressional committee on arrangements to seats directly in front of Vice-President Marshall.

Finally Coolidge was escorted to the chamber, and standing with upraised hand before Marshall, took the oath to uphold the constitution. This done, the ceremony and the life of the 60th congress came to an end with the dropping of Marshall's gavel.

To Private Life Marshall and the retiring senators became private citizens with the slight adjournment of the old congress. Immediately after Coolidge's inauguration was completed, a procession began from the chamber to the stand at the east front of the capitol, where Harding was inaugurated.

MOONSHINE KILLS STOCK A farmer near De Pere was engaged in manufacturing moonshine recently. Receiving a "tip" that a raid was to be made on his place, he hastily destroyed his still and took his men out to the barn and fed it to the stock. Twenty-five chickens, several pure bred hogs, a pure bred Holstein bull and three pure bred cows died as a result.
